

At Leichtwerk AG, we develop technologies and products in the field of lightweight design - especially aircraft construction - and complex aircraft systems. Leichtwerk AG unites the continuous technological improvement of scientifically based processes with the goal of their simple and efficient application.

For our rapidly growing team of around 70 aviation enthusiasts at the Braunschweig Research Airport, we are continuously looking for new committed colleagues who can support us in exciting, technologically highly demanding customer projects, currently a

Systems Administrator (m/f/d)

Your tasks are...

- Management and monitoring of the IT infrastructure,
- administration, maintenance and support of Windows servers and clients, as well as Linux servers,
- continuous expansion and updating of the IT infrastructure,
- implementation and maintenance of management systems,
- documentation of the configuration of the production environment,
- introduction and updating of IT security management,
- independent planning and implementation of internal IT projects,
- implementation of the IT helpdesk.

Your strengths include...

- a degree in computer science or relevant technical apprenticeship, e.g. as an IT specialist,
- profound knowledge in Windows and Linux administration,
- experience in network and firewall administration,
- profound knowledge of virtual environments,
- profound knowledge in the area of IT security,
- experience with scripting (Powershell, Batch),
- experience with Teamcenter installation and upgrade would be desirable,
- a structured approach even when dealing with complex processes,
- a high degree of self-motivation, you act proactively and have a quick perception,
- good language skills in German or English.

You can expect...

- a challenging and manifold working environment with flat hierarchies and respectful cooperation at eye level,
- a permanent contract with an attractive remuneration model
- flexibility through flextime, 30 days of vacation and additional time off on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve,
- a corporate culture that promotes professional and personal development.

We want to get to know you and are looking forward to meeting you!

Send us your resume to personal@leichtwerk.de or call us at +49 531 245 405 15.